Executive Summary

Digital is reshaping how we live, work, and play. Leading organizations today are reinventing their core business while reimagining how they transform their digital platform, culture, and approach to achieve their business outcomes. For businesses, realizing the benefits of digital transformation requires business leaders to look beyond technology. They need to reimagine existing business models and embrace different ways of bringing together people, data, and processes to create value for customers and maintain a competitive advantage for themselves. How can a business navigate this type of transformation? Luckily, you have us. And how can we help?

We enable impactful digital transformation across four pillars:

The power of our solution areas is when they come together – for you. We start by understanding your business priorities and align with various ICT solutions to enable digital transformation across our four pillars.

Whenever focus is on cost, IT has no opportunity to formulate partnerships. Scale more efficiently and lay a foundation for rapid expansion with ICT solutions. Data silos, legacy systems result in inefficient management of resources and timelines. Maintaining the status quo will only have you stuck in the cycle of Patching, Updating and Rewriting. You can't innovate. And competitors capitalize on this to overtake you.

Innovation is no longer a choice but a requirement. Planning for the long-term matters. Therefore, do not put off digital transformation or optimization, it will only get complicated as time goes by.

Our solutions are over 85% ready. Therefore, we deploy FAST and spend time with you on TRANSFER KNOWLEDGE.

The next sections discuss our profile, the solutions, services & industries, and our approach.

Our Solutions, Services and Industries

We only use the latest, proven technologies for our solutions.

Microsoft

Work better with our wide range of products from Microsoft that will take care of your enterprise business process automation needs as well as your team's productivity and collaboration.

SAP

We help you transform your enterprise into a transparent, predictive, and resilient operating model that will meet more complex demands from customers, and in turn helping you make better business decisions.

SOPHOS

Endpoint security is not just the software you put in place but also the firewall you have installed, with Sophos you can rest assured that your network is safe from even the most sophisticated of hack attacks.

CISCO

When you need a trusted brand in networking solutions, there is no other brand you can think of other than Cisco. We have a team of certified engineers to help you deploy and maintain your Cisco solution with ease.

ORACLE®

Your enterprise data is a gold mine, whether it's a history of purchases and activities, or demographic information, each data point helps your organization adapt better to the changing customer needs.

NetApp®

Secure your data in a cloud-ready environment that will unleash unprecedented performance, whether you're going fully cloud or taking a hybrid cloud approach, we'll work with you to develop a data management plan that's right for your needs.

Our Solutions, Services and Industries

We deliver business value in a cost-effective way

I.T Consulting

In our experience, many companies waste a large portion of their budget on technical difficulties that arise from faulty equipment, outdated software or even a lack of skilled man power.

Project Management

Downtime, delays or data loss can cost companies thousands and sometimes millions of shillings, so getting things done right the first time is absolutely critical to the success of any I.T project.

Enterprise Application Integration Services

Since all departments, depend on each other, the data needs to flow between them. Enterprise Integration solutions, enable multiple systems to talk to each other, which in turn unlocks the synergies between the information in each department.

Business Continuity Plan

Also commonly referred to as "Backup and Disaster Recovery," which often involves duplicating company and client data on a secure server (either on-site or off-site) as a form of insurance against potential physical and online disasters.

Business Process Automation (BPA)

You know you need BPA when you experience bottlenecks and are unable to pinpoint the root cause. or you lack a central system and manual processes introduce several issues that are time consuming.

Managed I.T Services

All technical stuff aside, this is exactly what our Managed IT Support Service plans are designed to do. We purposely built our managed I.T services to proactively maintain your infrastructure, day-to-day tech support, network security and ongoing technology strategy .
